

Ted Bainbridge, Ph.D.
Longmont, Colorado

Ted has been a genealogical researcher, teacher, consultant, speaker, and writer since 1969. He has served as president of the Longmont Genealogical Society. Ted also has been a staff member in two LDS Family History Centers and the director of one. His genealogical and historical articles are published frequently by many international, national, state, and local organizations. Ted is listed in the Speakers Bureau of the Colorado Council of Genealogical Societies and frequently speaks to organizations on the Front Range.

He is a ninth-generation Pennsylvanian. Every immigrant ancestor he has identified settled immediately in Pennsylvania and stayed there for the rest of their lives. Ted was an Army officer during the Viet Nam War, taught math and science in public schools, was a tax accountant and bank auditor, and became Chief Financial Officer in medical corporations. Later he taught accounting, financial management, and regulatory research in colleges. His doctoral dissertation described his pioneering research projects in agency theory and in experimental economics.

Ted often writes articles and creates Power-Point presentations as specifically requested by historical and genealogical societies. You can contact him at ted.bainbridge@gmail.com
